

Delhi Assembly Election 2020 Police making arrangements to conduct peaceful polling in Shaheen Bagh

MM BUREAU

New Delhi/January 30

The Delhi Police is conducting an assessment to ascertain the feasibility of holding elections at Delhi's Shaheen Bagh, where residents are protesting against the government's move to pass the Citizenship (Amendment) Act or CAA, officials said on Thursday. Special Commissioner (Intelligence) Praveer Ranjan said the assessment was conducted at the highest level to ensure that polling in the area goes off smoothly. Alternative routes have been planned for the movement of election officials and material, he said, adding that talks are on with the protesters to clear the stretch. The protest at Shaheen Bagh has been going on for more than a month and all the efforts by the police and administration to pacify the protesters have come to naught. These protests are led by the women of Shaheen Bagh, who are sitting on the road connecting Delhi with Noida. The protest has led to blockade of Road No 13A. The protesters want the government to take back the amendments passed by Parliament last month. But the Centre and Home Minister Amit Shah, who piloted the bill in Parliament, have categorically said that there is no going back on CAA. The issue has taken centre stage in Delhi in the wake of Assembly elections scheduled for February 3. The counting will take place on February 11. The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), which is hoping to return to power in Delhi after two decades, is seeking to counter the ruling Aam Aadmi party (AAP) over protest at Shaheen Bagh. Several BJP leaders and Union ministers have highlighted the statements of Delhi.

One of the reasons identified for the party's slow start is the lack of coordination between the planners and star campaigners. While there have been repeated demands from Congress candidates for leaders such as Captain Amarinder Singh, Jyotiraditya Scindia, Navjot Singh Sidhu and Sachin Pilot, the coordinators have so far not been able to draw up a schedule for their campaigning. Former Congress president Rahul Gandhi is expected to address a few rallies in the last week.

P's remaining intact in the st several elections. The Congress is hoping to give a high fight to the AAP in at st five seats such as Gandhi gar, Badli, Seelampur, stafabad and Ballimaran. e BJP too is banking on a good show by the Congress to register victory in some seats as they are confident that the grand old party would cut into the AAP votes only. In tough contests between the AAP and the Congress, the BJP will be the gainer.
