

var raised a preliminary objection against hearing the case. The bench said, "We know the problem faced by Delhi as cases (of Covid-19) is increasing. But the October 9 order passed by the Delhi High Court has merely postponed the matter. How can a special leave petition be entertained against an order?"

Appearing for the Delhi government, additional solicitor general (ASG) Sanjay Anand pressed the panic button

Delhi government hospitals put together can provide only up to 4,000 beds."

The bench told Jain, "We are aware that the situation in city is worsening. Delhi has a problem, sometimes 5,000, sometimes 10,000, this is a fluctuating situation... You can bring this matter to the attention of the High Court."

Jain explained that in the last few days, the daily average of Covid-9 cases had crossed the 7,000-mark. "If possible, please understand

Jain said.

The Association of Healthcare objected to any stay of the HC order. Senior advocate Maninder Singh informed the court that the high court was functioning till November 12 and to date, no request for an early hearing has been made before the division bench. Even the matter arising out of the September 22 order was listed for hearing on November 18. Singh said he had no objection if the top court directs.
